THE RUSSIAN TRADING SYSTEM STOCK EXCHANGE (RTS) TO DISTRIBUTE RTS MARKET DATA THROUGH BLUE MOBILE™ TO ITS MEMBERS IN RUSSIA

Moscow, Russia & London, UK – March 8, 2010 - Blue Systems, a leading global provider of financial information software, announced today that it has become a Data Vendor to the Russian Trading System Stock Exchange (RTS) and that it will start promoting Blue Mobile™ to RTS members.

Blue Mobile™ is a financial software product that provides streaming, real-time data from global financial markets including equities, ETFs, foreign exchange, financial futures, commodities, oil and precious metals markets; news and company financials. Blue Mobile™ will provide member firms and their end user customers with real-time RTS prices, plus prices from markets around the world including New York, London and Tokyo.

“Blue Mobile™ will bring global markets directly to Russian investors’ mobile phones” stated Sulim Malook, CEO of Blue Systems. “And foreign investors will be able to view RTS prices on their phones. We are very pleased to be working with Russia’s pre-eminent exchange to distribute their data and our software to mobile users the world over”.

Roman Goryunov, RTS CEO added “We understand the explosive growth in mobile and are delighted that we can now leverage that growth and provide a value-added service to our member firms, a service that would not have been available without Blue Systems. Blue Mobile™ not only gives our members a perspective on the world’s markets but also makes our data available to a much wider, global audience. We look forward to a successful partnership with Blue Systems”
